

Collaborative work on innovative and sustainable projects

a Blended Intensive Program

Brest, France - 5-12 June 2024

Embark on a journey of practical experiences where knowledge meets action!

This course is designed to be a transformative experience, where you'll not only learn about SDGs and collective intelligence but also embark on a journey of self-discovery.

By immersing yourself in practical exercises and engaging discussions, you'll develop invaluable skills, enabling you to navigate the challenges of our ever-changing world.

Central to the course is an invigorating creative marathon, where you'll collaborate with fellow participants to create innovative projects with positive social and ecological impacts. Together, we'll strive to make our campuses more sustainable while fostering personal growth and self-awareness.

Why should you be part of this enriching experience?

- Expand your knowledge of SDGs and their practical applications.
- Cultivate emotional intelligence, reflexivity, and enhance your self-understanding.
- Engage in a dynamic creative marathon that unleashes your innovative potential.
- Contribute to projects that could create positive change in society and the environment.
- Connect with a supportive community of like-minded individuals passionate about personal and global transformation.
